SAN FRANCISCO, May [illegible], 1865.

EDS. OREGONIAN:—

[illegible] the steamer [illegible] under [illegible] the OREGONIAN and finished my [illegible] I propose spending a short time in putting a few ideas together for your benefit, although it is not known that I can give you any news, as the telegraph has not been kind to us with much the past few days and our city has been remarkably quiet.

After [illegible] weeks of windy, blustering weather we have had [illegible] followed by a [illegible] [illegible] scarcely a breath of air. [illegible] Montgomery street is any thing more than a [illegible] than anything else I can think of. [illegible] [illegible] earthquake [illegible]

The only exciting topic on the street during the past week has been a panic in the stock market, and from some unaccountable reason many favorites have fallen during the past ten days one half their former value. How any person can deal in stocks on Montgomery street and make his calculations to keep on the right side, is more than the uninitiated can be supposed to understand. For instance: last week a friend says I have hit it in buying "Belcher" at $1,250, sold it to-night at $1,800. Tuesday after it is selling at $800 and $900. Imperial sold last week at [illegible] and $210; [illegible] the first of this week at [illegible], and now at $275—and these ups and downs in the face of liberal dividends just declared. Some must make and others lose, it must prove satisfactory, generally, in the end, or else people would not continue the speculation. For my part, I would rather take my chances in more legitimate gambling, if I desired to jeopardize my means.

In my last I stated my belief that "coal wells" would not pay on this coast without giving my [illegible] for so concluding, but since then I find a discussion going on at the East, which affects seriously the Mammoth California Company lately formed in New York City on the strength of the representations of Professor Silliman, as to the value and quality of the oil found on this coast. Professor Brewer, of Harvard College, who has been on this coast, and personally examined specimens of the oil found here, says "it will cost more to refine it than it could possibly bring in the face of the importations of Eastern oil, and then will not be as good for burning." This brought Professor Silliman out in a card, claiming great advantages for the California production, and offering specimens for test. Brewer replies that the specimens produced by Silliman, show all he claims for them, but says he never found any article of the same nature on this coast while he was here, and says he does not reflect anything he has said as to his own experience in oil mining in California. A great deal of money has been spent in boring and refining the oil found in the beds of asphaltum in the lower counties; but every test made thus far, has shown it to be too expensive to work to any profit, but there are plenty of persons here, neglecting their business in prospecting for places to sink wells.

The Sacramento Bee tells a good story on one of our Washoe millionaires which I think worth printing and send it to you:

"A friend at our elbow tells us a good one of a Washoe millionaire, formerly a resident of this city, who is said to possess more money than education. On his way to the Atlantic States, a few months ago, our sage brush Crœsus got into a very gay party on board the old steamer Champion, which is champion only of slow coaches and mud turtles. A few days out from Aspinwall, this coterie began to make up pools of $20 per man, to be decided upon the speed per diem of the ship. Our hero, whom we call Sandy, was unlucky, and had won no pool, when he conceived what Lord Dundreary would call 'a most bwilliant idea.' He proposed to make the ship's run for the next twenty-four hours, for $50 apiece, which proposition found twelve subscribers, making a total pool of $600. He then went to see the engineer. On entering the temple of Fulton, the man of steam pointed ominously to a sign which read, 'No admittance. No conversation allowed with the engineer!' Our friend was not long, however, in explaining the object of his visit. He told the engineer to keep him posted and pained the exponent of flues and puppet valves with a XX, adding the comforting assurance that he was 'in with him.'

"'What shall I mark for the run?' said our hero.

"'Well,' said the engineer, 'the others will all mark 225 miles or over; but she shan't run more than 212. Cut you mark 209, because if you mark the exact number, they will think you had something good on 'em.'

"Accordingly, Sandy made his mark on a piece of paper, and put it in an envelope in the purser's hands, that gentleman being stakeholder. The next day at noon, he rushed to the bulletin board and saw the magic number '212,' written in the captain's hand, as the run for the last 24 hours. He walked to the purser's office and claimed the pool.

"'Pool?' said the purser, 'why, I just paid it to Dr. ——, of California, who won it on 220. You were nearly 1800 miles out of the way.'

"'Eighteen hundred devils! How do you make it out?'

"'Here is your own mark,' said the purser, handing him out a piece of paper marked '2009.'

"'Give me the money,' says Sandy, 'I won it fair enough. There's a two and two noughts—that's 200, and a nine is 209.'

"All we can say is that the purser did not 'see it in that light,' and if '2009' stands for two hundred and nine, the purser of the really sure, but certainly slow, steamer Champion, is a defaulter in the sum of $600 to that shining mark of capricious fortune, Sandy B., of Nevada."

The specimen of the Nicholson pavement lately put down on Montgomery street has charmed all property-holders and directors of railroad companies on account of its advantages over the cobble-stone or plank streets, and it is the determination of these companies to lay this pavement between the rail tracks, throughout the city, thinking the expense will be more than made up to them, in time, by the saving in horse-flesh, as the present pavement is very severe on the propelling power of our street railroad cars. It is the cleanest, neatest, quietest and apparently most economical street pavement yet invented, and is destined to become generally used in this city, as it has been in eastern cities where it has been introduced.

Now that the Confederacy has become completely bursted up and a reward offered of $100,000 for the head of its chief, Jeff. Davis—an opportunity is afforded for the citizens on this coast to show their loyalty by subscribing to the National Loan, which is proving so popular at the East, Government having ordered subscriptions to be taken at the office of Wells, Fargo & Co., on the Pacific coast. With gold at $1 50, $100 in gold buys $150 of U. S. Bonds, paying 7 3-10ths per cent. interest per annum on their face, or about [illegible] per cent. on the $100 originally invested, and not taxable. When peace is restored [illegible] and specie payments are resumed, the $150 of Bonds will be worth their face in gold, and perhaps a premium besides. [illegible] no true Unionist [illegible] permit his gold dust to be hoarded any longer, producing nothing and subject to loss by theft. Let him rather loan it to the Government, receiving in exchange a bond which he can carry in his pocket-book, without inconvenience, and borrow money without difficulty if necessary.

The latest news shows the rebellion completely at an end and its leaders [illegible] to come to justice, with a large reward offered for their apprehension, [illegible]

Emigration to Mexico

[illegible] to Mexico [illegible] the West [illegible] and the French gentleman at the Tuileries [illegible] Mexico will [illegible] Emperor Max and take kindly to Juarez [illegible] 2,000 Western agriculturists who [illegible] be provided [illegible] Fortunate thought that last [illegible] is doing [illegible] with Signor [illegible] the Mexican Minister, who represents Mex[illegible] but not any Emperor. Enlistment offices are opened everywhere and we [illegible] that the [illegible] should have an over[illegible] to emigrate [illegible] with the rest. The whole business is being [illegible] national law, of course [illegible] when these [illegible] victors [illegible] Mexico, there are some chances they will back [illegible] go to fighting like they are used to. When this commences [illegible] law will be [illegible] and so will Maximilian.

Juarez has taken an odd fancy at [illegible] this time to issue letters of marque to make prizes of French commerce. England and France have had a good time of it fitting out blockade runners and Confederate men of war, and it is no fond thing that this Yankee Nation does not go into the same business as agents for Juarez. The fact is, without boasting [illegible] that we can beat the world rigging out men of war either for ourselves or the Mexican Republic, and if Juarez really want[s] French commerce attended [illegible] all he has [illegible] to supply [illegible] half a [illegible] Portion contract [illegible] and let the [illegible] Out it was beautiful and funny [illegible] to see American ships [illegible] when the boot gets on the other leg it may become evident that a good rule works both ways.

Beriah Brown. This individual said to be a rebel all the way from Maine came passenger on the Dezaba from San Francisco. It is supposed he is traveling awhile until the excitement concerning him in California is somewhat allayed. On the trip he had considerable to say of his grievances and losses. We certainly don't believe in mob law and have no exception to make in its favor against him, but we incline to the belief that the writers were fully as peaceable and legally [illegible] far as a sense of right is concerned in emptying his office, as he and his crew were when filling it. We pay favor and compliment Beriah to the extent to say that there is in this State a paper fully as disloyal (though not as ably edited as his was) which can get down to a lower meaner degree of vileness than he could, because there is not even a pretence of decency connected with it.

The above was written when we had only heard of Beriah. Since then we have seen him, and must perforce continue the sketch. In less than two minutes after we met he introduced himself as a "fugitive." He spoke of "anarchy" which he had "felt," and the lugubrious tone he took quite overcame us. How could we doubt him when he said that he had ever been loyal and an unconditional Union Democrat? How could we help feeling sad when his long countenance grew longer? For an expanded visage is the saddest thing in life. Beriah is a Yankee—one of the very puritanical cusses Pat Malone is down on. He looks like a long-limbed pedagogue—lineal descendant of Ichabod Crane—troubled with "unconstitutional Union Democracy" and anarchy on the brain. It is evident that he can hardly express, much less repress, the impressions that oppressed him when his Press was impressed into the service by an irrepressible mob for the express purpose of committing "anarchy." Beriah is a depressed "fugitive," and we wish him much better luck in a much better cause.

Copperhead Literature. Since the Copperhead papers of Oregon are raging and rampant, threatening and bullying because we say that such miserable curses on humanity as their respective editors have instigated assassins to aim at Lincoln's life, we furnish the following, which was manufactured by the [illegible] Democrats of Colusa county, California, and might be incorporated in the universal Copperhead Letter Writer:

Notice to Judge Deffendoff you had bet ter stop taking Up men for Savin Lincon. Ort to be del [illegible] you dont you will suffer the Same fate and that putty sun the peple here is willin to say no more about it and i beleve you and a few more I cud name is at the bottom of all that i has heard the peple Say they was sorry they ever sade any thing about [illegible] and few of hed mens dont stop it you will lase all of yer stock and yer lives I tell you as a frien

Some California paper has suggested that each Copperhead sympathizer with treason should keep constantly on hand a copy of the note which a Missouri guerrilla sent to the Provost Marshal asking for "those four dollars" [illegible] to buy a new shirt to be hung in [illegible] but we think it mean in our cotemporary to insinuate that they would be that particular. Such nicety would [illegible] consistent with their words and acts. We don't think they ought to be hung, either, though they certainly ought to be [illegible] considerably.

Hear Him. The Walla Walla Statesman [illegible] be in error. We thought the Constitutional Peace Democracy had it all arranged with Jefferson D[avis] [illegible] that he would consent to rule over us again whenever the Northern people would submissively ask him [illegible] Washington. It seems not [illegible] for the Statesman says:

It is not true that the rebels in their prosperous condition ever asked [illegible] were willing [illegible] accept Union and submission to the Constitution and Federal authority, but on the contrary it is a well established fact that they would consent to no terms other than disunion and Southern Independence.

They would [illegible] They have been saved the trouble of "accepting," and can either consent [illegible] to the Constitution and Federal authority [illegible] emigrate, and pretty quick too.

Sermons on Texas. The pirate Semmes has published a letter [illegible] from which we take the following glowing account of Texas and the rebel prospects there. It [illegible] expected that as the Confederacy has ceased fighting [illegible] it will also cease. Howell [illegible] Stamps [illegible]

A special dispatch to the Courier [illegible] says: The President will soon issue a proclamation defining the standing of North Carolina.

Considerable discussion is excited by the significant fact that General Grant and Staff dined with M. Romero, Minister of the Mexican Republic.

A North Carolina letter says twenty thousand of Johnston's army left for home between the time the negotiations commenced and the final surrender. They stole horses from the officers and struck across the country. Johnston pretended that he had no control over them, and spoke in very bitter terms of Davis, attributing all the rebel failures to his bungling administration.

Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.
NEWELL'S
PULMONARY SYRUP HAS CURED THOUSANDS!
And it will Cure You!

"A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves obstinate there is Always reason to fear the consequences, as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the forerunner of Consumption." — [Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.

STOP THAN COUGHING!

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supercede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of freshly compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure; but

Pulmonary Syrup!
Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefitted by its surprising curative powers.

WHAT KILLED HIM?

Dr. Hall, in his Journal of Health, speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have remained with us for some years to come, had it not been for advice kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance.

He Had a Cold!

Which, by some injudicious prescription, had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that "prescription" was not

NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indications of a Cold, and you will think and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

Saturday Nigth Musings

[illegible]

It was many Saturday nights ago perhaps but it was once. Why to-night? Is there not some little corner in the heart where the [illegible] hope the [illegible] pleasure lingers? [illegible] hour. Who has poisoned the feast? Who has embittered the spring? [illegible] Saturday night. See who has shrowded the fete of [illegible] the Darling of years ago [illegible]

[illegible] Read this little chapter. It is kindly meant [illegible] see how much happier you have been than you might have been, how much happier you might have been than you are. Do not blame. Do not chill the rivulet into an icicle.

Good wife don't let him go. Make home happy [illegible] the glance, the word, the caress, the electric touch and all [illegible] They may die before their [illegible] sent us here to be happy. We live to make or sol as mistrals. God gives us Saturday night for reflection. He gives us the Sabbath for rest. He gave us six days for labor. And you brother reader come in life's battles must you go from [illegible] but can you not help to make it [illegible] your earnings. Save your heart. Save your manhood, keep faith with yourself. Give this night to rest, to-morrow for worship and give to God a heartfelt blessing for the mercies you have. Some Saturday night will be your last. We pray that this may not [illegible]
